OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN KNOX COUNTY

New Series: Vol. VII, No. 19.

BARBOURVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1917.

$1.00 per Year In Advance

SOL T. STEELE, CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

Oil Men Arrive by the Score.

That a real oil boom is now on there can be no doubt. Every train that comes from the North brings new faces to our little city. They have the appearance of men of business and thrift and are making a hard scramble for territory. There are several rigs now in operation and within the next thirty days drilling will begin in real earnest. In all parts of the county drilling machines will be running day and night as they did in the days of 1900 and 1902.

"Bone Dry" Plan Receives Approval.

Washington, March 8.—President Wilson has signed the post-office appropriation bill containing the "bone dry" prohibition provision.

The "bone dry" provision of the postal bill is the most far-reaching prohibition legislation ever enacted by the federal government—in fact, it is the first direct legislation by the government prohibiting the liquor traffic.

At least fourteen States which have prohibition laws, but do not prohibit the importation of certain quantities of liquor for personal use, will be made "bone dry" by the new law which prohibits the importation of liquor into any State that prohibits "its manufacture and sale." State legislation, recently passed and about to become effective within the next few weeks, will increase the number of "bone dry" States to at least twenty-two.

The same bill prohibits delivery in the mails of any publication or correspondence bearing liquor advertising in States which, by their own laws, prohibit such advertising within their borders.

Steele a Strong Candidate.

Sol. T. Steele, candidate for the Republican nomination for County Attorney of Knox, whose announcement appears in the ADVOCATE, is making a favorable impression with the voters. Knox county will need for its County Attorney the coming four years a capable, trustworthy official, as well as good safe men for other county offices. Our people should be careful and far-sighted in the selection of county officers. Sol. T. Steele is qualified for the duties of this important office, and, if nominated and elected County Attorney, he can be trusted to do his whole duty in the conduct of the affairs of the office and for the welfare of the people of Knox county.

Mr. Steele was born and reared in this county, taught school and afterward attended law school at Valparaiso University, and has been, for several years, prominent as a lawyer at the Knox county bar. This is the first time he has ever offered for a

THE FARMERS' OPPORTUNITY

By J. M. ROBSON, President First National Bank.

This year—1917—offers the greatest opportunity for successful and profitable farming to the farmer that has been known for more than half a century. The country is confronted with an extraordinary condition. There is wonderful activity along the lines of industry. Prices are soaring.

The warring nations of Europe are literally "Eating it up." There never has been, for fifty years, such a demand for farm products and at such high prices. The farmer, long ignored, has certainly come into his own. Wheat $2 per bushel, corn $1.25, potatoes $3 and $4, onions $5, hogs $13.50 per hundred pounds on foot in market, and other things in proportion and going up.

The cabbage head, ignored by the farmers last fall, is now worth 15 cents per pound in Barbourville.

If the war in Europe continues throughout this year (and there is little doubt but what it will, with additional nations involved) prices can only go one way and this is up; but, whatever the result of the war, it is likely that the prices of farm products will be good for at least two years, and, perhaps, for four years.

The English government recognizing this fact, has guaranteed to the English farmer the present high prices for the next three years in order to induce increased production of the farms.

Knox county farmers must help to feed the country. This is your opportunity. Every farm in Knox county should be run this year to its full capacity and everything good to eat should be saved.

We are now paying nearly $2.50 per bushel for potatoes right here in Barbourville, and they will cost more than that if you get them from the city. Anyone can raise potatoes. If your soil is not fertile enough, you can meet this requirement by using some manure or fertilizer. An acre of good potatoes should yield about 200 bushels, and, in some soils, they will yield 400 bushels. At the price of $2, or even $1 per bushel, one can readily see that this is now one of the great money crops of the country. This is a year, more than any others, in which you can afford to invest in fertilizer and be certain of a good big yield, because you can feel sure of receiving high prices for your products. I have been talking to some of my farmer friends and urging them to raise large crops, and some of them have said to me that many farmers of the county will be prevented from putting in big crops for want of seed, tools, mules, etc. Owing to the attractive prices, the farmers have sold too clean. They have not left the seed. I trust that no man in Knox county will be prevented from putting in a big crop for want of these things. We have always looked upon the farmer as the source of wealth and the real strength of the nation. The farm not only produces the necessities of life but it also produces a large percentage of the statesmen and successful business and professional men of the country.

The First National Bank of Barbourville wants to see every farmer in Knox county have an opportunity to take advantage of these splendid prices, and this bank wants to help the farmers of Knox county who need seed, tools and stock to put in a good big crop and this bank will make a special effort to assist this class of men, and therefore if you have the land and want to put in a good crop and do not have the money to buy the seed, fertilizer, tools or stock, come to the First National Bank, and we will be glad to lend you the money. It does not require a large quantity of potatoes to put in a big crop, if they are properly planted. The best potato growers never put more than one eye to the place and from twelve to fifteen inches apart, but you are wasting your seed unless the soil is fertile naturally, or made so by manure or fertilizer. Everything produced on the farm this year, from the tomato to the fat beef, will bring high prices.

We also want to emphasize the importance of fruit growing in Eastern Kentucky. With proper care of the trees Eastern Kentucky, some day, will become famous for its fine and perfect fruits. We, however, have to fight the San Jose Scale, other insects and blights. This can only be done by proper spraying. These insects and blights are the causes of our trees dying, the fruit falling off before maturity, being knotty and wormy. This can all be avoided by proper spraying and care of the trees. Thousands of dollars are lost every year to the farmers of Knox county by the destruction of their trees, not considering the enormous loss in fruit. It has been conservatively estimated by men who know that Knox county loses every year on its fruit trees and fruits more than $50,000 because of the neglect of the trees. In order to show our farmers the importance of spraying, this bank proposes to lend, without interest, for two years, to any man or group of men, in each precinct of the county, sufficient money to buy the necessary spraying outfit and materials with which to spray their trees. We suggest that from three to ten farmers in each precinct buy one of these outfits and materials. It will not cost more than about $40. The spray will cost about $20 and materials about $20, and these could be used for several years by several precincts. Your fruit, if free from worms and blights, will command high prices. One hundred good apple trees, properly cared for, will make you more clear money than is made from the best farm in Knox county at present. We do hope that some farmer, or groups of farmers, in each precinct of the county will take up this proposition and test it out. You would be rendering a great service to yourself and to your community.

Strike At Straight Creek.

It is said there is a strike of all the miners on Straight Creek and at the Moss mines. Well, we have been looking for something of this kind to happen for a long time. They would strike here, but it is not necessary for them to do so. They fix the price and the consumer has it to pay.

In the last month people have been caught without coal, and were compelled to pay it, and the fellows who happened to have the coal at any price and the coal was out of coal had it to pay. Coal went from $1.50 and $1.75 to $5 per ton, or rather per load, which, in some cases, would weigh about 1,800 pounds.

We do not blame any man for getting all they can in this world, but we believe it should be passed around a little. Any man can handle coal after it is brought to light, but the man who risks going under the mountain after it is the man who should have the increase, if there be any. A legitimate strike, one that is free from riots and other violations, but we do not believe in violating the law to enforce a strike, if there is any way at all to avert it.

How About Your Auto License?

The city authorities are not going to RUN YOU DOWN to tell you it is a fine to run your car WITHOUT A LICENSE. If you are caught and fined, who are you going to BLAME? (18-2t)

E. J. WYRICK.

We present herewith the cut of E. J. Wyrick, who announced in the columns of the ADVOCATE some time ago for the nomination for Jailer. Mr. Wyrick is not a stranger to anyone of the citizens of Barbourville. He has been favorably and well known here for many years. Not only in this city has he been known, but the man from the country knows him because he has been one of them, having been reared on the farm, and, being a farmer now, we need not try to tell them they are not well acquainted with him.

Mr. Wyrick has always been a Republican, voting and working hard for its principles and assisting every nominee of his party in every election since he has been a voter. Mr. Wyrick is a good campaigner, and a more clever man has never come before the voters of Knox county seeking an office. He, nor any one of his long train of kinsmen, have ever held, or asked to hold, any office in the county. He would not have been a candidate had it not been at the solicitation of his many warm friends all over the county, who know him and know his real worth. Mr. Wyrick comes of a good law-abiding family. He is strictly sober, with a will and sufficient energy to fill this office in the way it should be filled. He will, if elected, be found at his post of duty, treating all alike, irrespective of his politics, religion, race or color. He asks your support, and promises to give you such service, if elected, that you are entitled to, and to make you an officer that you will feel proud of after the election.

The springtime will soon be here, and Mr. Wyrick will lose no time in seeing the voters of the county and telling them what he intends to do when elected. He has great encouragement from all over the county, especially where he is known, for to know him is to be for him in most anything that he would ask at your hand.

He will stay in the fight to the finish, and you can wager that the man who stays in sight of him will be going some.

Hale—Addington.

Monday night at 12 o'clock the rites of matrimony were solemnized at the Luncheonette between John H. Hale of North Carolina and Miss Maud G. Addington of Wise, Va., by the Rev. Creal.

These young people made it appear to their friends that they were running away to be married, though they were both over twenty-one years of age. They left on train No. 31 for Norton, Va., where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Wiley Hammons died at her home on Goose Creek last week.

Now In It for Himself.

Sol. T. Steele, a well known Barbourville attorney, has entered the race for his party's nomination for County Attorney of Knox county. Mr. Steele has long been prominent in g. o. p. affairs in his section of the State, especially as one of the active managers of Judge Flem D. Sampson in the latter's three successful races, twice for Circuit Judge and more recently for Judge of the Court of Appeals, and, if he can do as well for himself, he ought to prove a hard proposition for his competitors. —Louisville (Ky.) What of Politics?

We have, from time to time, said much about the political situation in the United States as well as the State of Kentucky. Many surprises have been sprung, and we have been made to wonder what will happen next.

We have in Knox county the best Democrats to be found anywhere in the world. In most part they are gentlemen who want to do right; they are conscientious in their belief; they are entitled to their belief. We do not remember whether it is in Holy writ or not, but we heard a preacher once say, "believe a lie and be damned." We don't want to accuse anyone of wantonly misrepresenting anything, but we do want to ask a few questions. How many times have you heard the orator, the candidate who possibly, when he decides to run for some office, could not carry a speech in a basket, that soon becomes a great orator, stands up and tells you that if you will vote for him he will see that our taxes are reduced; that he is for economy.

The fellow who tells you that he will, if elected, make laws for us, that he will vote for lower taxes and for a more economical administration. Do they keep their word? Do they vote as they solemnly swore before you they would? We say no. Instead of voting for lower taxation they have made it greater at every mention of the tax laws. Instead of lowering the taxes, at every meeting of the Representatives they have made them higher. If not directly, they have done it indirectly, by creating new and worthless offices to be filled by appointment as the Governor recommends in order that his political pets may all have a share of pie. In the State of Kentucky we can not turn around for State officials. Some of them are necessary; and do a great deal for the State each year. But the pie hunters have found it out, and at each meeting of the lawmakers there are a dozen or more new offices created.

In Kentucky we have Labor Inspectors; they are a necessity. We have State Inspectors and Examiners; they are a necessity, and are usually men of high character and standing, especially the present incumbents. But while that is true, we have "Pig Pen Inspectors," called health officers. Then there is another called a Concrete Inspector, and some of them, although the woods are full of them, would not know a concrete block if he were to meet one in the road.

Then there is the Hog Inspector, the Cow Inspector, the Seed Inspector, the Hotel Inspector, the Fire Inspector, the Sheep Inspector, the Automobile Inspector, the Meat Inspector, the Smoke Inspector and God alone only knows how many other kinds of inspectors the State of Kentucky is now feeding. These are the fellows who are getting the State deeper and deeper in debt at each swing of the pendulum. They are the fellows who are sapping the very life out of the poor taxpayer. These men who parade the State in a Pullman car, eating in fine dining cars at the expense of the poor devil who, with corns in the palms of his hands as thick as the skin on a bull's neck, is a mile back under the mountain under a death trap, sweating and toiling to pay for all this, or they, these GREAT and WISE inspectors, are leaning back in a leathered, backed, spring-seated arm chair half full of "hellback" dreaming of the big fat check that awaits him on the first day every month in the year for his salary and expenses for the great and wise advice he had given to some loafer that never works and had nothing else to do except to listen to these great men and drink "BOOZE."

Have the people in the State of Kentucky gone to sleep, or maybe it would be better to ask have they never awoke from the sleep they were born in? All these inspectors and all other unnecessary officers of the State are Democrats. They were put there by a Democratic Governor or one of his sub-ordinates. Every law upon the Statutes of Kentucky was fathered by a Democrat; every one of them was made by a Democratic Legislature. Are they good laws? Are they safe and sane laws? Do they do equal justice to the poor and the rich? Are you satisfied with them? If you are, then it is alright. If you feel that a State that is nearly four millions of dollars in debt, a State whose claims and paper can not be sold on the money markets of the world at a discount of 10 per cent when the State is paying 5 per cent on them, then you ought to do your duty, be true to your country, State and party, and keep on voting the Democratic ticket.

Do these political shysters keep their promise? If they do, why is it that Kentucky has even one saloon where intoxicating liquors are sold? Do they do as they promise? If so, why are we so deeply in debt? Do they keep us out of debt and lower our taxes? If so, keep on voting for them. Have they filled the cities, towns and even the woods full of worthless officers, who are a public nuisance to the community in which they are sent? If so, stop, look and listen. You will soon hear the terrible rumbling noise of the crushing wheels of a financial juggernaut with a man riding on the pilot heralding to you and to your posterity the awful news that, through the management of a party that lives for revenue only, has bankrupted the Grand Old State of Kentucky so badly that when Gabriel shall come to wind up the business for us that he will find the woods full of inspectors and the treasury at Frankfort as empty as the skull of a cigarette fiend.

Some people object to giving the President more authority than he already has. We say give him all he asks. He will keep us out of war. Don't worry about that.

Warning--Last Call

There are some people who are candidates for office and who have announced in the columns of the ADVOCATE and who have not said us for their advertising. We do not intend to mention any names, but, if our readers will watch closely, they can learn by finding their names omitted from where they had been carried for some time.

It takes cash to run a newspaper. Every Saturday night the editor has to pass over his check to five men, he has to pay rent, pay for coal, power, lights and water, and incidentals. He must pay for the white paper, ink, typewriters, and he has to support himself and family. He has considerable money invested in machinery and supplies. He is supposed to find out everything that moves. He takes the chance of saying something about some "BOOB" and then have him to whip. Now, take all this into consideration.

Would you do all this on a credit, and pay out all you have and not receive anything in return? We say no. You would not--neither will we. We have too much on our backs now, and we expect to have less. If you wish this paper, pay us; if not, have the manhood and nerve to tell us, and we will immediately drop your name from our mail lists. If we owe you, you want it, and we are composed of the same kind of mud. If we owe you, you will sue us if we don't pay it. In our case, well, "We've done tole you now."

Ouch!

One of our exchanges says that there is a candidate in his county who is kicking himself all over. It seems that the candidate sent to some cheap "Cut-Rate" print shop and had his work done, and when he received it he could not tell whether it was "He" or "She," and, the worst of the whole darn affair was that his opponent found out he was getting his printing done out of town--and, oh my, but he used it. The editor says the moral of the whole affair--patronize your "Home Print Shop." We say Amen.

For Magistrate.

In this issue will be found the announcement of T. M. Perkins for Justice of the Peace of District No. 2. Mr. Perkins is one of Knox county's best men. He was born and reared in Knox county, and has been a resident of the Brush Creek neighborhood for more than forty years.

He is in the race to the finish, and the man who gets in the running with him will have to go some to pass him.

Germany said that if Mexico would help them they would give them back Texas, together with other holdings that the United States has obtained from them. Well, if they had Texas, what would they do with it? They could not handle it in 1847, and what could they do it with it now? Texas could whip Mexico by itself.

It is said money is plenty. That may be, but times are just as hard, and the necessities of life are just as high as they were before we had so much money. It will soon be that we will have more money by actual weight than we will have meat.

Rank Foolishness

You occasionally see it stated that colds do not result from cold weather. That is rank foolishness. Were it true colds would be as prevalent in midsummer as in midwinter. The microbe that causes colds flourishes in damp, cold weather. To get rid of a cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective and is highly recommended by people who have used it for many years as occasion required, and know its real value. Obtainable everywhere.

Gregory a Sure Winner

It is being conceded by the friends of Ben H. Gregory that he will be a sure winner for the Republican nomination for the office of County Court Clerk of Knox County.

The people are demanding clean, honest, sober and competent men for office. His moral life is an open book to be inspected by all who are concerned. We have no fear that even his opponents will dare attempt attack it. His educational qualifications are equal to or superior to any one asking for this office.

Ben, as he is called by his friends, is the son of James A. Gregory, who is well known in this county, having taught school in many educational districts. He is a staunch Republican, ready at all times to work for the success of the party.

At his earliest convenience he expects to call upon every voter personally and place his claim before them for consideration and solicit their support. If nominated and elected he assures the people that he will faithfully perform the duties the people and this office place upon him. Any support given him in this race will be greatly appreciated. adv

Sign of Good Digestion.

For Representative.

To the Voters of Whitley and Knox Counties:
I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Representative of the Sixty-ninth Legislative District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Republicans at the primary to be held Saturday, August 4, 1917. I am an orphan, my father having died some time ago. I am a poor boy as you know. I have taught school with success. I solicit your support, and, if nominated and elected, promise to do all in my power for the reduction of taxes, and at the same time try to get the State out of debt. I was born in Knox county, but have been a citizen of Whitley county for some time. I hope to be able to see the voters of the district before primary, and tell them where I stand.

Thanking you in advance for your support in advance, I am

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. Its hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Barbourville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:

George C. Morris, farmer, Barbourville, says: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys were out of order and my back ached and pained awfully. I could hardly do any stooping or lifting and my kidneys acted irregularly, at times being too frequent and then again sluggish. Doan's Kidney Pills soon rid me of the backaches and put my kidneys in good order."

MISS SALLIE HOSKINS AND LAURA HAYS.

After a wedding trip in the East, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Swearingen returned to this city this week, and will make their home for the present in St. James Court. They were married February 20 at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Richard H. Coke. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell, pastor of the First Christian Church, in the presence of the two immediate families.—Louisville (Ky.) Courier Journal.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many good friends and neighbors who, with kind hands and sad hearts, were so willing to visit and assist us during the sickness and death of our darling daughter, Eva, who was taken sick on January 28 and died March 3, 1917.

C. Cobb and wife, Sprule, Ky.

Engle—Terrill.

Wednesday morning, Joseph Engle and Miss Ethel Terrill came to the city and were quietly married in the County Judge's office, Judge Thomas G. Hammons officiating.

After the ceremony the happy pair returned to their home to take up the burdens and pleasures of life whatever they may be.

Tenth Birthday.

Mrs. William F. Gregory gave a pleasant surprise party for her daughter, Miss Evelyn, in honor of her tenth birthday, February 26. The afternoon was joyfully spent with games and music and at an appropriate hour the guests were led into a room lighted by candles. The room and table were decorated in colors of Nile green and pink. The birthday cake was decorated with ten candles and candles were placed on the table and about the room. Dainty refreshments were served, each guest receiving a beautiful favor.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents from friends.

Tuesday Club.

The Tuesday Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Hiram H. Owens, Tuesday afternoon, February 27, 1917.

This being the One Hundred and Tenth Anniversary of Longfellow, the afternoon program was devoted exclusively to selections from the works of the universal poet. Leader, Mrs. R. Bassett Minton; assistants, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Owens.

Sketches from Longfellow's Life and Works, Mrs. William C. Black.

Reading the Old Clock on the Stairs, Mrs. Hugh M. Oldfield. Pianologue, the Day Is Done, Mrs. Oscar C. McClung.

A story, the Courtship of Mills Standish, Mrs. James S. Miller. Longfellow Mission, Mrs. Ezra T. Franklin.

Piano Solo, Mrs. Walter S. Hudson.

Reading, The Bridge, Mrs. Flem D. Sampson.

Poem, To Wm. H. Channing, Mrs. William E. Faulkner.

This was one of the most enjoyable programs given in this year's work, the entire membership of the Club being present. After adjournment, the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by Mrs. James D. Black and Miss Black.

High School News.

Prof. Faulkner's room, the 7th and 8th grades won the Attendance—Punctuality Banner this week. Now since they have won again, we predict it is going to be as hard to keep them from keeping the banner in their room as it was to win it from the sophomores and seniors. Despite the bad, rainy weather last week the various rooms held up their averages higher than was to be expected. They rank as follows:

Prof. Faulkner	93.53
Prof. Oldfield	92.40
Prof. Mills	91.45
Miss Parker	89.74
Miss Barton	87.91
Miss Prater	85.32
Miss Pelly	82.85

Next Thursday night, March 15th at 8 o'clock, Miss Pelley's room, the 2nd and 3rd grades, will present to the public a most excellent program consisting of a play entitled, "Little Miss Van Winkle". Also folk-dances, drills, motion songs, solos and duets. There will not be a tiresome number on the program.

Last Saturday night, in spite of the rain, a very exciting double-header basket-ball game took place in the Gymnasium. Our High School boys first team played Union College first team; and our High School boys second team played the Baptist Institute first team. Both games resulted in a victory for the High School teams.

COMBATING

And Eradicating Fruit Diseases.

By R. E. MILLER.

This is the time of the year in which the farmer should give a share of his attention to his orchard. He should bear in mind that the practical fruit grower of today has many new problems confronting him that were little dreamed of half a century ago. The time was when they grew fruit with but little care and attention. But those days of the virgin soil have passed away, and this new era has brought with it many enemies to the farmer and his crops. Just as many of the diseases of the human race are steadily increasing as the years go by; so are those of the fruit grower keeping pace with the times, and it behooves us that we become masters of the situation, and that by learning the nature and habits of these diseases along with the best methods of combating and eradicating same.

The time is now ripe and dead ripe for the farmers of Kentucky to awake to the fact that the pests that disturb our fruit trees are increasing so rapidly as to threaten the total destruction of our orchards. And, unless we get the Twentieth Century move on us as our enemies already have, we are likely to be victims of failure and defeat.

Among the pests that are most detrimental is the San Jose Scale, which lives on practically all wood plants, and when left alone will kill any tree in the course of a few years.

The Scales are small, being near the size of a pin head. They do not deposit eggs, but the female gives birth to about 400 living offsprings, which reach maturity in about five weeks. There are many other kinds of Scales, but the San Jose can usually be known by the reddish color of the inner bark and the white specks on the outer edge.

The two remedies which are most effective for San Jose Scale are: First—Pruning off the diseased limbs, which, by all means, should be burned to keep others from becoming affected. After pruning a diseased tree, the pruning tools should be thoroughly disinfected with kerosene emulsion, Formil or Formiline or else they may be heated in boiling water, but, at any rate, they should not be used until one is sure that it will not effect others by doing so.

The second, which should follow the first, is to spray with a lime-sulphur solution—something like five parts of lime and five of sulphur to forty or fifty of water. The first spraying should be done immediately after pruning; then, just before blooming and just after the petals fall.

Another indirect cause of diseased trees by furnishing a lodging place for the Scales and eggs of the disease, is the manner in which the cuts are made. To prevent this we must not leave splits or cavities that will herd these pests. All cuts should be made as smooth as possible, and, if over an inch in diameter, painted with any ordinary paint. This also serves to prevent grapevines from bleeding too freely, when pruned too late in the spring.

Some of the other pests that are very destructive to fruit is: Caterpillar, Blister, Pear Blight, Slug Beg, Worm Red Spiders, Weevil, Lice, Bores, three or four kinds of insects and different types of Rat. Many of these diseases are so bad that there is no remedy known that will kill them except to cut slaughter hue and burn. Thus we see the importance of prevention.

One of the things that make it extremely difficult for the orchardist to defy his enemies is the location of his orchard. If affected trees be within a radius of a mile of your trees, they are likely to be attacked, for such things as birds, bees and winds are active agencies for transmitting these diseases.

Again the necessity of good neighbors. In fact, we are in some senses "our brother's keeper" even when it comes to fruit growing. One man can not make the great success with his orchard when his friends and neighbors all around him are careless and do not take careful precaution in regard to their orchards. It takes a whole community working together for a common cause to accomplish most in preventing the dreaded disease.

I know of only two ways of bringing such relations about. The first one which, perhaps, the better of the two where it can be applied, is through a community organization such as the "Fruit Growers' Union," where the public sentiment could be aroused so that farmers might really see the need and value of such prevention. Second, and in most cases, the only thing that will really bring to pass what is so badly needed is a law such as Ohio and other States have enacted by the State Legislature and enforced by the executive officers over the State, requiring, and, if necessary, compelling, all who have fruit trees to prune and spray. Pay some one to do it, or else have their trees destroyed. Then and only then will humanity be supplied year in and year out with an abundance of wholesome and delicious fruits.

THE EGGLESS CAKE

High Cost of Living Reduced by Several Millions.

The prestige of the hen is being curtailed in a new and interesting way.

She lays a billion eggs or so for the human race each year, and, under world war conditions, the price of eggs per dozen to consumers had approached a dollar in some parts of the United States, and has reached the prohibitive price of two dollars or more in the belligerent countries.

Therefore when the high cost of living looms large in the public eye, unusual importance is attached to the announcement of the best known baking powder company in the world that it has evolved a ready and practical way for the housewife to have, in the aggregate, many millions of dollars in household expenses through the use of more Royal Baking Powder and less eggs.

Months of experimenting have elicited a large number of recipes for the making of home baked products with fewer eggs, and these recipes are being distributed gratis. It is claimed that they prove conclusively that the baking powder saves eggs—in some cakes about half the cost of the cake is saved. In recipes calling for the use of eggs, the number can be reduced and excellent results—beautiful, appetizing cakes, muffins, corn bread, etc.—obtained by using a small additional quantity, about a teaspoon, of Royal baking powder in place of each egg omitted.

The acme, or top-notch achievement, in this connection is an eggless, milkless, butterless cake that is pronounced by all who have tested it to be delicious and wholesome. Its appetizing quality, it is claimed, will be surprising to the housewife who tries it according to the recipe given.

The idea of using more Royal baking powder and less eggs in baking is not entirely new, but the elaborate enlarging and perfecting of the idea just accomplished renders it a very present help, meeting the necessities of the housewife of moderate means in the time of soaring food prices.

In the British Isles the news has been received with enthusiasm. The baking powder company, while not being accused of being an out-and-out philanthropist in the matter, is pointed out as having provided the means of effecting an enormous saving in household affairs in a way that benefits everybody and harms nobody—except it be the pride of the autoeratic hen. The company only completed its experiments recently, and already the announcements are being spread broadcast in the newspapers, which, it will be remembered, many years ago made the name of Royal Baking Powder a household word all over the world.

Drake---Price.

Thomas Drake, colored, of this city, loses two members or his family in two days. They did not die—they got married. On February 28 his oldest daughter, Miss Minnie, was married to Edward Price of Pineville, where they went to reside.

DRAKE---HINCH.

And on March 1, Miss Trilby, his second daughter, was married to Peyton Hinch of Warren, where he is engaged in mining. Mr. Drake, in his quaint way of saying things, remarked: "Well, I guess they will get lots more to eat." These young women have a good education, and have conducted themselves so as to merit the confidence of all. We hope they may be successful through life.

F. F. Dalley Co. of New York, Inc.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

To the Voters of Knox and Whitley Counties.

I am a candidate for Representative from the 69th Legislative District composed of Knox and Whitley Counties, subject to the action of the Republican primary election to be held Aug. 4, 1917.

I am 50 years of age and was born on Meadow Creek, in Whitley County, and am a son of Rev. Dempsey Perkins, who died June 14th, 1875, leaving myself and five other boys orphans. Four are yet living. They are Felix Perkins, of Knox County, W. C. Perkins, of Whitley County, Geo. Perkins, of Medillene, Wash., and Rev. Capt. Grant Perkins, of Gladstone, Mich.

I have been married twice, my first wife was a daughter of John W. Sears, of Pulaski County, and my second wife a daughter of John Craig, of Meadow Creek, Whitley County. I lived ten years at Clate, Knox County, the place where my first wife died. I have never been indicted in any court; have always lived or tried to live in such a way as to incur the respect and esteem of those who know me, and have never before asked for an office of any kind. Being a laboring man myself, I think I know the needs of the larger class of people, and if elected I will endeavor to protect their interests at all times. I am opposed to liquors of any kind, and for every measure that will further the progress of the people. Trusting that you will give my appeal for your support some consideration, I remain.

Very truly yours,
JOS. W. PERKINS.
